Do you know what assistive technology is and how it can help you?

Did you know your computer can help you read faster and smarter?

Do you know the difference between a bit and a bite?

Can you write a clear and concise email?

Do you know how to register for classes online?

Can you communicate safely online?

If you answered NO to any of these questions, then the Eastern Idaho Computer Access Summer Camp is what you've been waiting for.

Please join us for a week full of creative new ways to learn and communicate using today's tools, techniques and technologies.

You must:

- * Be a high school student or 2010 high school graduate with a disability;
- * Have a desire to pursue a higher education or start a career;
- * Be willing to work hard and;
- * Be able to commit to fully participate in all program activities.

Cost of the camp is $20.00. Financial assistance may be available.
Class size is limited to 20 participants.
